Description of Programme:

The Career Guidance Cell of Institute of Management and Research, Pune organized a session on 'Guidance for UPSC – MPSC' on 2nd June 2024 at 4.00pm. Considering the need of today's students to compete and face the challenges of the modern world, and to make them aware of the competitive examinations, the cell organized this talk to build among students a sense of awareness, provide guidance, necessary sites, and other information about various competitive examinations. The session began by the deliverance of welcome address by the officiating director of the Institute Dr. Prajakta Warale. He congratulated the career guidance cell for taking the initiative to organize a session on such an important topic. He in her address emphasized on the need for preparation for competitive examinations to equip the students for exploring employment opportunities. He also said such sessions for students are necessary to develop their competency in achieving their career goal.

The resource person Mahesh Shinde began the session by stating that today the students have lot of openings for prospective career in government sector, corporate sector, in leading public sector banks and even in the UPSC (Union Public Services Commission) and SSC (State Services Commission) where they can make a niche for themselves. The speaker chose to emphasize on the main components of competitive exam in the country namely the Union Public Service Commission. The speaker threw light on the Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) and stressed on the intricacies of it, such as the qualifications, number of attempts, reservations, cut-off marks and the total number of services which comes under it. He also elaborately discussed on the exam cycle which takes an entire year to complete. He made the inquisitive students learn how to apply for the exam and then enlightened them of the various sources to refer for preparation. He explained in detail the preliminary, mains and interview part of the examinations. He also threw a light on the selection, salary offered, age limit, reservations, duration for preparation and exact time to start for preparation. The resource person also briefly touched upon the Maharashtra Public Service Commission exams and updated them of the various topics and areas they should consider while preparing for this competitive exams. Further, he addressed the students as to how to prepare and study for such exams, what memory techniques can be used to remember the huge data, method of study, use of various websites which provide assistance for competitive exam aspirants. He stressed that rigorous training; systematic planning and hard work are the keys to face the entrance exams. Both UPSC and MPSC require a long-term commitment. Success in these exams hinges on consistent effort, understanding the syllabus in-depth, regular practice (especially for writing), and staying updated with current affairs. Patience and persistence are key, as is maintaining a positive mindset throughout the journey.

Good luck with your preparation!

He finally concluded by stating that the exams are tough but not impossible to crack. The session concluded with vote of thanks.

Outcomes of the session:

- Students get knowledge about career in UPSC and MPSC
- Students get book list of required for reading as per syllabus
- Students learned how to start preparing for the UPSC and MPSC exams.
- Over all information of UPSC, MPSC and other Competitive examinations.
- Students will ready to face various competitive examinations positively

Name of Event Coordinator	Prof. Anjali Jagdale

Objective of Programme:

- To Foster a culture of continuous skill development for personal and professional growth.
- To Offer consultancy services for students looking to study abroad.
- Bridge the gap between academic education and industry requirements.
- To ensure that education is accessible to differently-abled students and those with diverse learning needs.
- To provide resources and platforms for educators to improve their teaching methodologies and manage classrooms effectively.

Description of Program

The Career Guidance Cell of Institute of Management and Research, Pune organized a session on 'Career Opportunities in education and coaching sector' on 15th December, 2023 at 10.00am.

After going through all these researches, it becomes clearer that the education sector has a lot of scope with an end number of opportunities. Besides, education is advancing in terms of standards. Jobs in this industry may not need extra hours of work, but they do require planning, hard effort, and attention. Therefore, it becomes pertinent to look at the emerging career options in education.

In addition, on the off chance that you're graduating from college before long and will have a degree in education, underneath are a few of the hottest employment opportunities you can seek in education and related areas. An educational consultant functions primarily as an academic counselor. In most situations, they are independent advisers, which mean they operate as freelancers. Their work description includes assisting educational institutions and schools, as well as, in certain situations, parents and students, in resolving educational-related concerns.

They are after upgrading the overall performance of the institution. You can consider this alongside your teaching career. The job of a curriculum designer is quite clear with the name, i.e., to design the curriculum and work closely with teachers, organizations, and clients. The aim is to produce and implement effective education course material (online & offline) for schools, offices, universities, and other organizations. The curriculum designer also performs research studies to design and connect a range of digital resources with the needs of the participants, guaranteeing a great learning experience for students. It should be excellent in project management, communication, writing, and research.

Most importantly, it should be enthusiastic about education. An instructional designer is an eLearning professional who collects information from subject matter experts and applies instructional theories and models to create interesting and engaging learning experiences. At the entry-level, an instructional designer can gain anything between Rs. 25,000 and Rs. 30,000, based on the ability and earlier exposure.

A corporate trainer is an instructor, educator, or mentor who motivates and guides corporate employees for them to achieve specific goals. A corporate trainer's goal is to increase employee efficiency and align them with the company's mission and vision. Corporate trainers execute a variety of programmers' based on the needs of the organization, such as leadership programmers', change management programmed, skill development programmers, and many more. Big corporations recruit corporate trainer's full time or serve as consultants.

Career counseling is the ability to comprehend students' pain points and guide them with advice and roadmaps for a successful career. To become a Career Counselor in India, one might begin practicing on their own, intern with a respected practitioner, join an organization/school, and so on. According to a study, the individuals within the age bunch of 15-64 make up 67% of the Indian population.

YouTube is the best place if you are looking to have a future in this field. But don't ignore the fact that you have a decent number of competitors and innumerable expectations.

Academic writing jobs are plentiful as online learning becomes more prevalent. As an academic writer, you may be asked to provide study materials, write a thesis, blogs, essays, and so on. If you are interested in this position, make sure to be well-versed in academic writing rules, as this form of writing differs from digital content writing. Aside from being an exceptional writer with strong syntax and punctuation skills, the candidate should understand the strategic and accurate use of citations. You can choose to become a freelance academic writer. An admissions counselor holds the responsibility of recruiting prospective students. Their work profile includes visiting college fairs, providing information to students and parents regarding the organization, assisting in campus tours, and organizing recruitment strategies. Admission counselors frequently collaborate with the administration office to analyze incoming applications and check their documentation.

The chief academic officer administers the educational program me of a school or university, including providing the remarkable academic experience possible while fulfilling long-term financial goals. The individual will, moreover, be capable of the core educational modules alongside the student and educator impact. Admissions, student affairs, and the registrar's office are common places for education administrators to work..

Outcome of Program

- Enhanced engagement and understanding through personalized, interactive, and technology-driven methods.
- Adoption of innovative technologies such as AI, AR/VR, and data analytics in learning environments.
- Enhanced learning opportunities for students with disabilities and diverse needs.
- Individuals continue to acquire skills and knowledge throughout their lives.
